WELCOME TO THE INAUGURAL ISSUE

The Editor-in-Chief is proud to announce the inaugural issue of Language and Communication Quarterly, published by Untested Ideas Research Center, Niagara Falls, New York, USA.

Language and Communication Quarterly is an international blind peer-reviewed refereed journal. This journal is dedicated to publishing investigations on new and untested ideas, and disseminating research findings that make original and significant contributions to different areas of language and communication.

First of all, we would like to thank our authors, who took a calculated risk in submitting their work to Language and Communication Quarterly, a new and untested journal. We hope this company of articles published by Untested Ideas Research Center makes them proud to be a part of the inaugural issue of this journal.

Then, we would like to thank our reviewers, who sacrificed their time to review the manuscripts for the inaugural issue. We also thank them for their frank, constructive critiques that will play an educational role in the fields as well as provide guidance to our authors.

Finally, we would like to thank our readers for visiting our www.untestedideas.com website. We hope that they become engaged in discussion with our authors by commenting on their scholarly work.

Enjoy reading Language and Communication Quarterly Volume 1, Issue 1.
