
UI JOURNALS

With the goal of advancing research in the social sciences, Untested Ideas (UI) Research Center provides the researchers and scholars worldwide with resources, grants, and academic exchange platforms and channels through research interest sections, funded research projects, annual conferences, training workshops, and publications. The mission of UI Research Center is to serve the social sciences researchers and scholars in the world and aim to promote advanced and cutting-edge research methodology, publish investigations on new and untested ideas, and disseminate research findings that make original and significant contributions to the social sciences.

UI Research Center publishes a variety of works including scholarly journals, books and monographs, conference proceedings, and occasional papers. Currently, the Center publishes the following four international blind peer-reviewed refereed journals: Language and Communication Quarterly, Leadership and Policy Quarterly, International Journal of Education and Culture, and International Journal of TESOL and Learning.

These four journals are dedicated to publishing investigations on new and untested ideas, and disseminating research findings that make original and significant contributions to different areas of language, communication, leadership, policy, education, culture, TESOL, and learning. It is important to note that there is NO CHARGE for a manuscript to be published in any UI journals. Please visit <http://www.untestedideas.com/journals.html> for journal descriptions.
